

Today I am going to The Children's Museum of Houston.

When I get to the Children's Museum I will walk to the front door.

I will go through the front door and wait while my grownup buys a ticket.

After getting my ticket, I will put on my colored sticker.

I will see happy staff members in blue shirts. If I get lost or have a question, I can ask them for help.

I can look at my map and choose where I want to play.

I will see lots of different things at the Children's Museum.

I must remember to use my walking feet and stay with my grownup at all times.

I will see a train engine that I can play on.

I will also see tables with fun activities for me to do.

I will see a small city where I can play. I can pretend to be a bank teller, a chef, a cashier, and a veterinarian.

I will see a big tower. I can climb in if I want to and my grownup says it is ok.

Outside, I will see a place where I can play with water and boats. It is OK if I get a little wet.

I will see lots of things that I can climb on and explore.

Some things might make sounds. Some things might have bright lights. I can use my words or show a picture saying I need a break.

There are many places to take a break. I can read a book in the library.

If I need to go to the bathroom, I can tell my grownup and they will take me.

My grownup will tell me when the Children's Museum is all done. It will be time to go home.

I will have fun at the Children's Museum today. That makes me happy.
